The vote to remove the transfer books of the Rock Island Railroad Company to Chicago has been followed by another injunction prohibiting this act, which is unanimously reprehended. The corporation for many years has had its headquarters in New-York, and the attempt to evade, which was probably only a stock-jobbing injunction, is regarded as a confession that there are facts in regard to the recent operations in the stock of a dishonorable character. That the issue of stock was legal no one doubts; but equal confidence is expressed that the sale for the Company was availed of to sell large amounts for private gain by parties in the secrets of management. If the transaction in all its defails will stand the scrutiny of a legal examination, the Executive Committee and the directors will soon come to the conclusion that attempting to run off with the books, and to stille investigation, are serious blunders. Just now the public asks why the books of a corporation which claims to have made a very advantagous sale of stock, are attempted to be run away with, instead of being promptly produced to prove the farmess of its dealings. For the attempt of run off with the books there is no possible excuse. It is stated that the grading of 50 miles of road west of Omaha has been without the knowledge for the directors. An order has been granted to show cause to-morrow why the proceeds of the recent sale of stock should not be placed in trust to abide the event of the pending litigation. It is to be hoped that no exertion will be spared to have in New-York, where this stock is owned, and where the majority of its directors live, a full examination. As represented in stock circles there are transactions connected with the operation which should consign the participants to the penitentiary.

The New-York and New-Haven Railroad is reported to have decided to order 2,000 tuns of steel rails from England. A report on English trade states that the British exports of railway iron were considerably increased in 1807, notwithstanding the competition of Belgian makers and other circumstances, the total shipments in the ten months ending October 31 having reached 513,071 tuns, as compared with 430,141 tuns to the corresponding date of 1866, and 601,652 in the first ten months of 1865. The exports to Russia in the ten months ending October 31, 1867, amounted to no less than 125,513 tuns, against 55,395 tuns in the corresponding period of 1866, and 37,758 tuns in 1865. The United States took the large total of 145,166 tuns, as compared with 79,023 tuns in 1866, and 44,655 tuns in the first ten months of 1865. To British India the exports reached 140,666 tuns in the ten months, against 117,737 tuns in 1866, and 89,900 tuns in 1865. Russia is the chief market in which Great Britain has had to meet with Belgian competition. petition of Belgian makers and other circumstances, Express shares are fluctuating. The various rumors affoat as to the details of the recent arrangement entered into by the several Express Companies seem to have somewhat bewildered the public, with whom Express stock has been a favorite investment, and will be again when they clearly understand the arrangement has been fully effected. The card signed by Messrs. Dinsmore, Ross, Barney, and Wells, Presidents of the Express Companies, should be satisfactory upon this point, and doubtless would be, but for some erroneous statements appearing at the same time in the press, under a misapprehension of the facts.

tion, to establish such rates as will insure dividends to stockholders. It cannot be denied that this in some a small demand from the South. The Treasury is degree places the business public at their mercy. But the practical adoption of the original tariff of this has no effect on the market for the reason that the Merchants' Union, and the fact that this Com-

> The interchange of freight, money, and packages between the several companies is another important feature of the agreement. This will enable them to avoid duplicating or quadruplicating expenses at the same points, and at the same time to avoid the duplication of non-paying routes. The immense reduction of expenses thus obtained, goes, of course, to the benefit of the public, and is alone equivalent to the saving of reasonable dividends for stockholders. We see by the United States Revenue returns that the earnings of the four express companies, who are parties to this agreement, are on the average about $1,700,000 per month-in round numbers $20,000,000 per year. If, therefore, they save but 25 per cent of their earnings, they can pay over ten per cent annual dividends, or five per cent semi-annually, which is equal to any of our most prosperous railroads. It cannot, therefore, be doubted that hereafter, as formerly, express stocks are to pay regular and reasonable dividends. This estimate leaves entirely out of view the earnings of the four great dispatch lines which are owned and operated by these express companies.

The large cash surplus of each of the companies, in the aggregate amounting to several millions, which. as a measure of prudence, was held in reserve during the strife, is no longer needed for belligerent purposes, and might safely, and perhaps wisely, be diided among the stockholders. Whether this will be done or not, we cannot certainly say; but we stated in yesterday's issue it is currently reported that a portion of it will be so divided.

Independent of the card signed by the Presidents of the Express Companies, we are enabled to state positively that the agreement or contract referred to by them has been duly executed, and is being put in speration as fast as the details can be perfected.

Considering the magnitude of these vast enterprises, it will, of course, require time to perfect all the details as agreed upon. By this arrangement the catting of prices ceases, and a common tariff of rates is being arranged, based upon the cost of transportation, and leaving a reasonable margin for dividends. This is the plan adopted by the Merchants' Union in making its original tariff as given to the public; but sowing to the fierce competition and cutting of prices, it could not at all points maintain the equitable rates thus adopted.

The managers of the express companies have the power, and this agreement proves their determination.
